THE POTOMAC FISHERIES. - The experience of the fishery just closed adds cumulative proof to that of the five preceding years, which went to show that the mode of catching shad and herring by gill nets was, of all, the most likely to break up the famous Potomac fisheries | the 1st of January 1871. and to render what a few years ago was the poor man's cheapest food the rich man's dearest lux* ury. Previous to the year 1860 the few gul nets used on the Potom e river were not "leaded" -had no weights attached to the bottom, (corks being on top) to make them retain a vertical position in the water, irrespective of the strength of the current -cons quently they could only be fished on "slack water" -the time near the turning of the tide, when the water is almost still; for when the strength of the tide was reached their position would be chang ed from vertical to horizontal and they would float on the surface of the river-and if used on every such favorable opportunity they could only be effective during six out of every twenty four hours, as slack water lasts an hour and a half. About that year leaded lines, which, it was even then said, had ruined or se riously crippled the fisheries on the more northern rivers, were introduced upon the Potomac, and the nets instead of being used six, were fished during the entire twenty four hours. The nets in use then and previous to that time were only made for exching shad, and the shad fisheries began to fail that year. During the war but little fishing of any sort was done. The catch of 1866 was large, considering the number of shores worked, but it has steadily diminished every year since, that of this year not equalling by half that of 1869. The diminution in the eatch has kept equal pace with the increase in gibing operations. Gilling was prosecuted in 1866 with vigor, and the business has been enlarged every year since. In addition to nets for shad, herring nets are now fished, and the length of the ners has been greatly increased. Nets formerly were fifty or sixty fathoms long-now they are seven hundred, and in one case one thousand -extending in some places entirely across the river, and on the "middle ground"-the flats between the main and the swash channels-where the fish spawn, reach from the surface of the water to the bottom.

The gillers too have enlarged their field of operations, and now occupy nearly the whole length of the river, their nets being laid out in some instances in the very berths of the scine haulers, and to a passenger on a passing steamer presenting an appearance somewhat like the following:

and rendering it almost impossible for the fish to get through.

Of the fishing shores worked the last season but five caught as many fish as they did the year previous -the rest made from half fisheries to dead failures. The shad caught in some of the seines had the marks of the gill nets upon them. The proprietors of some of the largest shores say they will fish no more unless something is done to protect them from the encroachments of the gillers. That the gillers have certain rights no one denies, but wheth er those rights permit them to ruin all the tisheries on the Potomac is another question. This is a matter in which a great many peo-, ple are interested, and it is to be hoped that the Legislature will adopt some measure of protection for the fisheries, before it adjourns.

The Maryland police boat was stationed off Crany Island yesterday, and was warning the gillers against a continuance of their opera-

WHIT SUNDAY .- The Hebrew feast of Pentecost commenced at sundown on Saturday, was continued yesterday and will be concluded today. The occasion is celebrated by the Israelun Mount Sinai and the delivery of the tables of fiftieth day after the departure from Ezypt. The synagogues are decorated.

Yesterday was also celebrated in the Catholic, and Episcopal churches with services appropriate to Whit-Sunday, commemorative of the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the apostles and the gift of tongues. The day was exceedingly pleasant after the long period of rains, and the churches were generally well attended.

The services at St. Mary's Church were solemn and impressive. High Mass was celebrated by the Pastor, attended by acolytes, torch pearers &c., in their robes of red and white, as is usual on the great festivals, the orient being lighted behind the altar, which was handsomely decorated with lighted candles and vases of red flowers. At the Vesper service, many persons not belonging to the congregation were present. The Pastor preached appropriate discourses on both occasions.

To day, Whit Monday, was kept by a portion of the community as a holiday.

A LUCKY COLT. - The Gordonsville train on Thursday night, rag into a drove of borses above Rapidan, killing one, and throwing a volt up on the cow catcher, upon which it was carried several miles, the engineer not knowing, in the darkness, that he had such a passenger. When the train stopped at Rapidan Station, the colt was helped down from its involuntary elevation, and walked off apparently none the worse for its ride. FESTIVAL. - As will be seen by a notice in another column, the ladies connected with the M. E. Church South will commence a strawberry and ice cream festival at the Assembly Rooms to night. The success of their efforts at pleasing the public in past enterprises of this character is a guarantee of a similar result in their present undertaking.

ERRATUM .-- A transposition of a line in the second editorial article in Saturday's Gazette, made in attempting to correct an error marked made in attempting to in the proof sheet, destroyed the sense of the whole paragraph. The article should have whole paragraph. LOCAL BREVITIES .- At the conclusion of the services at Christ Church, yesterday morning, the Rev. Mr. McKim announced in an appropriate manner the death of old aunt Ailsie Derrick, who for the last forty years had been a communicant of that church. She was confirmed by Bishop Moore, under the ministry of Rev Mr. Mann, and was the last colored communicant of that church. Her age was 83 years.

He has just returned from a trip of over two thousand miles, dar ing which he has disposed of many State, county and individual rights to his valuable improvement. FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 6-3 p. m.

The Senate after the presentation of some memoria's of no general interest, occupied the morning hour in the dis ussion of the order in which carrain by mean should be taked up.

The morning hour having expire the con sideration of the Indian appropriation bill was proceeded with.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The new disability bill now before the Scu ate which was introduced by Mr. Robinson on Saturday contains 5,847 names, of whom over two thousand are from Virginia. The only names among the petition for removal of disabilities presented since Robinson's bill was reported, and consequently not on that bill are W. E. Caskins, of Fauquier, and Jas. W. Button, of Culpeper, the latter of whom was relieved in the last bill but his name was spelt Britton instead of Button. The mayoralty election here has so far gone on quietly, but the police are out, many stores are closed and order reigns. There seems to be every reason to suppose that Emery will be chosen Mayor.

CORRESPONDENCE.

ALEXANDRIA, June 4, 1870.

To George Y. Worthington, csq.:
Sir: On the 26th day of May I published in the Alexandria Gazette the following card:

"In the Gazette of yesterday evening I saw my name had been placed by the Republicans of the 3d Ward on their ticket as a candidate for the Board of Aldermen.
"While I appreciate the compliment, I think it due myself as a member of the Conservative party to say that I was not consulted on the C. F. SUTTLE. In your letter of yesterday, published in the Gazette and addressed "to the editor of the Richmond Enquirer," you speak of me several times as the "Radical candidate;" and you also use the following language:

"If additional proof be required to show the relative political positions of the various candidates at the recent election in this city, I would refer to the Alexandria Gazette of May 28, wherein will be seen at the head of the celumn giving the election returns it is stated the first named candidates for the several offices are Conservatives, thus, &c. This quotation used by yourself was italicized, and seems to be used to strengthen the insinua tion that I am identified with the Radical party. I desire you to say whether or not you intended to charge or insinuate that 1 am a Radical and whether or not you intended to question the truth of the statement made in my card of the 26th of May, and to these interrogatories I ask a reply. Your obedient servant. C. F. SUTTLE.

ALEXANDSIA, June 4, 1870. To Colonel C. F. Suttle :

Fir: Yours of this date has been received. wherein you desire me to say whether or not I intended to charge or insinuate that you were a Radical, and whether or not 1 intended to question the truth of the statement made in your card of the 26th of May.

In answer, I will state that I had no intention to charge or insinuate that you were a Radical in the letter I published in the Alexandria Gazette of yesterday addressed to the editor of the Richmond Enquirer; to have done either would have falsified myself, as I felt : ure that you were not a Kadical, although run by that party on their ticket for the Board of Alder-

In reply to your second question, I will state that the card you speak of having published in the Alexandria Gazette on the 26th of May, ow ing to my absence from the city for several days about that time, was never seen by me, nor have I been aware of its contents and imports until now apprised by you; therefore, I did not intend to question the truth of your statement in a card which I knew nothing of.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Life Sustaining Organs.

The two organs which minister most directly to the support of the body, are the stomac and iver. In the former the first process digestion takes place under the action of that cowerful solvent, the gastric juice. Thence the food, converted into a pulp, passes into the ducdenum, where it is subjected to the action of the bile or gali flowing from the liver, and of the fluid generaten by the panderess, or sweetbrend of the system. These secretions separate the nutritions portion from the rest. and it is then taken up by the absorbent wessels and conveyed into the channels of cir-culation in the form of venous blood, while the waste matter is discharged through the bowels. Unless all these processes are duly performed, disease of some sort is inevitable and the best of all medicinal agents for proserving or restoring the tone and requiring the action of the three organs-(the stomach liver and intestines)-by which the three-fold work is carried on, is Hostettar's stomach Bitters. Indigestion is generally accompanied by constipation, and the gentle cathartic opera tion of the Bitters is no less important in cases of this kind, than its tonic effect upon the stomach and the biliary gland. Beauty or person as well as health, depends in no small degree upon the regularity of the excretive functions. A sallow complexion, a thick opaque coarse skin, a tainted breath, rush of plood to the head, loss of memory, headache, and extreme mental depression, are the usual accompaniments of costiveness. A course of the Bitters will infallibly relieve, and finally banish these obnoxious symptoms, while invigorating the stomach and promoting heal-thy action in the liver. This genial vegetable stomachic and alterative, strikes at disease in its primary sources, the assimilating, sieretive and expulsive organs, and the cures it effects are consequently thorough and complete. je 6-rolw

It is a duty we owe to ourselves, as well as to those who are dependent upon us, to pre-serve our health and strength. Speer's "Standard Wine Bitters" are found to be an unfail ing and valuable assistant in maintaining the vigor of the system, and in keeping it in tone. Sold by Druggists and Grocers.
